Based on the popular international television show sensation that airs in the United States on PBS KIDS® and PBS KIDS Sprout<sup>SM</sup>, Bob the Builder™ LIVE! Spud’s Big Mess is a singing and dancing extravaganza for budding builders and their families. The show begins as Bob and his team build the first-ever recycling center and wind farm in Sunflower Valley. It isn’t long before some items go missing and a few of Bob’s friends mysteriously disappear. Faced with a mountain of garbage, they must figure out who is responsible for the mess and work together to fix it, while dealing with Spud’s antics. Interwoven into the storyline are takeaway lessons for kids and good reminders for the grown-ups, including how to encourage habits such as taking care of the earth and everything that lives on it and Understand what it means to recycle and reuse.

Bob the Builder Live! Spud’s Big Mess* to play the Chicago Theatre, 175 N. State St., Saturday, Feb. 7 at 2 and 5 p.m. For tickets or more info, visit www.thechicagotheatre.com or call Ticketmaster 312-559-1212.

Navy Pier’s “Toddlin’ Thursdays” offers live, interactive performances and special programs for children of all ages daily at The Family Pavilion Stage.
